BRUTAL STREET THUG IS JAILED

By Russ Lawrence

russ.lawrence@nlhnews.co.uk

A VIOLENT street robber who knocked a 61-year-old woman to the ground and broke the nose of another victim in separate attacks on consecutive days has been jailed.

Lucas Danko, 22, of Birstall Road, South Tottenham, and an accomplice, Courtney White, 21, of Higham Road, Tottenham, were sentenced at Wood Green Crown Court last Monday.

The two were arrested by detectives, the court heard, shortly after a 55-year-old man had been punched and his nose broken as jewellery was ripped from his wrist in Cleveland Gardens, Harringay, in June.

They were stopped as they tried to get into a minicab and Danko was spotted throwing jewellery belonging to the victim into the car.

They were also suspected of committing a similar robbery the previous day in Warwick Gardens, Harringay, when a woman was dragged to the ground and robbed of jewellery.

Property belonging to the victim was recovered in their possession.

Danko, the court heard, was the main assailant. He admitted two counts of robbery and was sentenced to four years in prison.

White pleaded guilty to two counts of handling stolen goods and was sentenced to 14 months in jail, suspended for two years.

"The manner in which these violent robberies were carried out was particularly distressing to the victims," said Detective Sergeant

Guilty pleas: Lucas Danko and Courtney White

Damian Hill. "The lady who was robbed told me she was scared to go out since the offence and I hope that the sentence will help her overcome her anxiety as a result of the incident."

Man charged with murder

A MAN charged with the murder of a victim found dead in Tottenham appeared at the Old Bailey on Monday.

Polish national Kamil Czarnomski, 23, is accused of the murder of fellow countryman Peter Chwalinski. He was further remanded in custody during a short appearance.

A member of the public discovered Mr Chwalinski's body near Park View Road on Tuesday, November 17. He had suffered a blow to the head.

Two men aged 21 and another aged 22 arrested at the same time as Czarnomski have been released after each accepted a caution for theft.

A 44-year-old man who was on bail after being arrested on suspicion of murder has been released without further action.

A 28-year-old man, also arrested on suspicion of murder, remains on bail until a date in early December.

Police have renewed appeals for information. Call the Homicide and Major Crime Command incident room on 020 8345 3715, the police non-emergency line on 101, or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111, or visit crimestoppers-uk.org.

Baby tragedy: woman bailed

A WOMAN from Haringey has been charged with the manslaughter of a baby.

The 10-month-old boy died at a London hospital on September 1 last year.

No further details have been disclosed by police.

Viktoria Tautz was charged last Thursday and bailed to appear at Hendon Magistrates' court on Friday, January 8.

Students have designs on the fashion industry

THE borough is blazing a trail with the launch last week of Europe's first fashion college with its own fully-functioning factory.

The Fashion Technology Academy will give 200 students a year the opportunity to gain professional qualifications through paid apprenticeships.

It is run by social enterprise business Fashion Enter, who supply 400,000 garments a year for retailers Marks and Spencer, ASOS, Finery and Tesco from their factory in Hermitage Road, Harringay.

A £570,000 investment from Haringey Council has enabled a derelict industrial unit to be converted into a state-of-the art clothing factory and teaching space. Models strutted their stuff in a spectacular catwalk show to mark its official launch last Wednesday.

Joe Goldberg, Haringey Council's cabinet member for economic development, social inclusion and sustainability, said: "Haringey's proud textile heritage is once again demonstrating our place at the heart of Britain's small-scale manufacturing boom by attracting nationally unique businesses such as Fashion Enter to the area.

"It's clear that our economic development strategy is succeeding in showcasing Haringey as a desirable borough for innovative and important businesses to set up shop in."

Tories call for leader to sack swear word councillor

By Lucy Purdy

newsdesk@nlhnews.co.uk

AN extraordinary council meeting will be held next week to consider whether the cabinet chief who swore during in the chamber should be dismissed.

The Tory group stormed out of a full council meeting at Enfield Civic Centre, in Silver Street, Enfield Town, last month after Andrew Stafford, the cabinet member for finance, was heard responding to a speech by Alessandro Georgiou, a ward councillor for Southgate Green, by referring to him as a "c***".

Five Tories, including Mr Georgiou, have signed a document calling for a requisition, which means the council is required to arrange an emergency meeting. It will take place at the civic centre on Monday, starting at 7pm.

The requisition reads: "Given that Councillor Stafford's portfolio responsibilities include legal and governance, in using such language he failed to lead by example."

"In the absence of his voluntary resignation from the cabinet, this council calls on the leader to dismiss Councillor Stafford forthwith as a member of the cabinet."

The Advertiser has seen the statement Mr Stafford sent to councillors apologising "unreservedly" for his outburst. He explained that it had been triggered by Mr Georgiou's speech praising Margaret Thatcher's success in suppressing trade unions during the miners' strikes of the 1980s.

A personal family connection to the miners' struggle, Mr Stafford wrote, provoked his use of the "offensive" word.

Doug Taylor, the leader of the council, said: "Councillor Stafford's use of language was not acceptable. He apologised verbally at the time and subsequently in writing, and the Labour group has since taken disciplinary action to address the matter."

"As an open and transparent administration, we respect the opposition's right to call an extraordinary general meeting and are happy to discuss the matter publicly."

"However, at a time when the council is having to deal with the impact of a further £50million savings as a result of huge and continuing government cuts and trying to protect the services residents depend and rely on, it is unfortunate that the opposition see this issue as being their top priority."

Under pressure: Andrew Stafford

MP Osamor supports Corbyn in vote against Syrian air strikes

INTERVENTION in Syria should only come in the form of humanitarian aid, insisted MP Kate Osamor as she vowed to oppose air strikes.

The Labour MP for Edmonton will opt against extending the UK's campaign against ISIS in the Commons vote today.

Ms Osamor is parliamentary private secretary for Labour leader Jeremy Corbyn, who has made it clear he does not back Prime Minister David Cameron's case for air strikes on Syria.

Mr Corbyn has been embroiled in bitter fighting within the Labour Party over the issue and despite his case that the official line should be against air strikes on ISIS targets in Syria, he has been forced to climb down and let MPs vote according to their conscience.

Mr Corbyn is in open conflict with some senior figures inside the parliamentary Labour party over whether Britain should join France and others in dropping bombs on targets they believe are important to the fighters, but he has an ally in Ms Osamor. She said: "I, like the leader of the Labour Party, will be opposing military action in Syria. Syria is complex and the battlefield is crowded with competing ideologies and aims. At the heart of the conflict are civilians trapped in opposition-held areas who face regular bombardment by government forces with barrel bombs and artillery."

"In my humble opinion I believe the only intervention the UK should be offering is shelter, humanitarian aid and solidarity to those families who are seeking refuge in the UK or abroad."

Enfield North MP Joan Ryan (Labour) and Enfield Southgate MP David Burrowes (Conservative) were contacted regarding their voting intentions, but had not responded by the time the Advertiser went to press.

Ms Ryan previously voted in support of the Iraq war. Mr Burrowes, who was not an MP at the time the Iraq war began, has voted for UK air strikes to support Iraqi forces' efforts against ISIS.

ANNE-MARIE SANDERSON

Princess gives facility a Royal seal of approval

By Ruth McKee

ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

THE Royal Family is known for their love of all things equine – and Princess Anne underlined the point when she gave her seal of approval to the school of animal management and saddlery at Capel Manor College, in Bullsmoor Lane, Enfield.

After an official opening ceremony last Wednesday, the school will now be known as the Princess Royal College of Animal Management and Saddlery.

Visiting the college, the princess, who won a slew of horse riding championships in her youth and whose daughter Zara Phillips won a silver team eventing medal in the 2012 Olympic Games, met staff and students at the college.

The new 1,000-square-metre building includes housing for exotic animals and reptiles, laboratories, classrooms, a dog grooming parlour and a teaching veterinary unit.

Saddlery student Fred Eastwood met the princess when his class presented her with a gift of a specially made bridle – and he described her as a “lovely lady”.

“We spoke and she was very interested in the course,” the 17-year-old told the Advertiser.

She did not commission any saddles from

Officially open: The college of animal management and saddlery him, but Fred thinks their rapport will pay off – “maybe next year,” he suggested, confidently.

Malcolm Goodwin, vice-principal of the college, admitted he was “hugely proud” of the staff and students who had led the princess on a private tour of the facilities.

“Not only of the students, who reacted beautifully,” he said. “They were intelligent, informative – they were lovely to her. I am proud of the guys who worked so hard to get everything ready.”

Mr Goodwin added that having a royal visitor meant a lot to the college.

“It means a huge amount to the students who were here, the future students and to the staff,” he said. “She seemed enormously impressed not only with the animal side of things but the whole panoply of what we do.”

Impressed: Princess Anne gives a speech during her visit to Capel Manor College, in Bullsmoor Lane, Enfield, and, right, in conversation with principal Stephen Dowbiggin

Festive fun (whatever the weather)

By Julia Gregory

julia.gregory@nlhnews.co.uk

THE festive season got off to bright start as crowds defied wind and rain to watch the Christmas Parade of Light in Enfield Town.

More than 300 people dressed in bright costumes participated in the parade on Sunday – the fifth year it has been running – which set off from Enfield Civic Centre, in Silver Street, for the town centre via Lancaster Road and Chase Side.

One of the organisers Kathy Worral said: “Despite the weather Enfield came out in force and it all went very well.”

She said the crowd donated more than £1,000 in cash to the bucket collections as the parade passed by.

Attractions included Edmonton Rotary Club with a snowman float, the 2nd Enfield Brownies dressed as the characters from the hit movie Frozen, Aylward School’s carnival display and dance displays from the Suella Academy, based in the Millfield Theatre, in Silver Street, Edmonton, and the Ministry of Expression performing arts school, which is also based at the Millfield.

The Enfield Scout Band led the parade with the North London Brass Band accompanying community singing from the London Road-based St Anne’s Catholic High School for Girls and the Enfield Harmony Choir.

The Unity 70 Youth Clubs for young people, which is based in Winchmore Hill, were dressed in green tutus as characters from the enchanted forest.

Vintage vehicles from Whitewebbs Motor Museum followed the route as did a two-wheeled contingent from the Enfield Cycling Campaign and Edmonton Cycling Club.

Money raised from the event will go towards the Borough of Enfield Voluntary Association for the Disabled, the Mayor of Enfield’s Charitable Trust and the ArtStart community arts projects.

Drug dealers jailed over £15m cocaine bust

A WINCHMORE Hill man has been jailed for his role in a gang that "flooded the streets of London" with unusually pure cocaine worth millions of pounds.

A police operation snared the gang and recovered 75 kilograms of cocaine with a street value of £15.6million.

However, officers found ledgers detailing 1,157 deals the men had made which totalled £23m.

Warren Gravette, 47, of Old Dairy Square, was among those jailed last Thursday. He received a ten-year sentence.

Ronald Hook, 36, of Hatfield, Hertfordshire, was jailed for 22 years and Spencer Pasicznyk, 41, from Bishop's Stortford, Hertfordshire, was sentenced to 13 years behind bars.

Gravette and Hook pleaded guilty at Southwark Crown Court of conspiracy to supply cocaine between March 1 and October 6, 2013. Pasicznyk was found guilty by a jury.

Two other men pleaded guilty to conspiracy to supply cocaine and were jailed for 12 years and another man admitted conspiracy to supply and will be sentenced at a later date.

Detective Inspector Paul Foreman described the men as "big players" in the capital's drug-dealing scene.

He said: "They had set up a highly sophisticated operation, taking delivery of vast amounts of cocaine and mixing it with cutting agents before selling it on at enormous profit. The drugs were incredibly pure and worth huge amounts of money. But a lengthy and meticulous police operation succeeded in dismantling their operation."

They operated from a unit on an industrial estate in Clapton, east London, disguising the premises as a legitimate building business. But it was used to store the cocaine and associated paraphernalia as well as ledgers and mobile phones, which the men regularly replaced in an attempt to cover their tracks.

Pleaded guilty:
Warren Gravette

The premises was used to "break down" and then "bulk up" the cocaine. Dustbins and toolboxes were seen regularly coming in and out of the unit and evidence later showed that a local anaesthetic had been used to mix with the drug.

Tests revealed the cocaine in its natural form to be some of the most pure ever seen in the UK at 92 per cent. It was mixed and sold on at a huge profit.

Hook was the "main player" while Gravette was his "right-hand man", liaising directly with the drug supplier, who remains unidentified.

Gravette fled to Holland and was arrested in Amsterdam on a European Arrest Warrant in January last year. When Dutch police detained him, he tried to eat a piece of paper detailing the code he used to communicate with his co-conspirators on his mobile phone.

Police issue appeal for fatal accident witnesses

DETECTIVES investigating a fatal collision in Edmonton are searching for the occupants of a car which stopped nearby.

A pedestrian, Ibrahim Ahmet, 58, was taken to hospital after the accident in Hertford Road, near Forest Road, at 5.30pm on Tuesday, October 27. He died later that week.

Now police are seeking to trace the people in a red or maroon car, thought to be a Vauxhall Frontera, which was travelling north. The vehicle was spotted on CCTV.

The driver of the Ford Fiesta car involved in the collision also stopped at the scene.

Detective Sergeant Stuart Henson, of the serious collision investigation unit, said: "The occupants of this vehicle are potentially vital witnesses. We are keen to speak with them, or anyone else who may have witnessed the collision."

The unit can be contacted at Chadwell Heath on 020 8597 4874.

Knife attack robbers get 12 years

By Ruth McKee

ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

A MAN from Enfield has been jailed for his role in a violent, unprovoked attack that left his victim with serious head injuries and stab wounds.

Armani Coleman, 20, of Carterhatch Lane, was sentenced to 12 years in prison at Wood Green Crown Court last Thursday after he was found guilty of assault by a jury at the same court earlier in the month. He also received a one-month jail sentence after he pleaded guilty to a count of theft.

Cedric Ndaye, 19, of no fixed abode, was sentenced to 12 years behind bars for his part in the assault.

The 45-year-old victim left his bike outside a shop in West Green Road, Tottenham, on May 25 this year.

Coleman and Ndaye were caught on CCTV, along with an unidentified third man, taking the bike from outside the shop.

The victim came out of the shop and ran after the men. The three turned on him, surrounded him and launched the ground. He fell unconscious – but the three men continued their assault, kicking him over and over again in his head and body.

Jailed for 12 years: Armani
Coleman and Cedric Ndaye

They only stopped when a member of the public intervened.

The victim was taken by air ambulance to hospital, where he was treated for a stab wound and multiple head and facial injuries.

The three attackers were spotted by police near the scene. They made off, throwing away the knife they had used.

Detective Constable Rob Buckley, from Haringey police, said: "This was an entirely unprovoked assault that stemmed from Coleman's desire to steal a bicycle."

"The victim suffered numerous injuries that required extensive medical treatment."

"The third suspect in this incident has yet to be traced although efforts continue. I appeal to anyone with information to contact officers."

Anyone with information can call police on 101 or contact Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Winter wonderland – or a muddy disaster?

By Julia Gregory
julia.gregory@nlhnews.co.uk

MUD, fun and the tears of politicians were the fallout from a winter festival held on in Enfield over the weekend.

Mike Rye, the Conservative councillor for Town ward, was furious that the local authority had agreed to let a charity fundraising event take place on Chase Green, on the corner of Chase Side and Windmill Hill.

The Nightingale Cancer Support Centre was given permission to hold the event, complete with family fun including a synthetic ice rink and stalls selling arts and crafts and homemade food as well as face painting and games for children to help the charity raise money ahead of Christmas.

But Mr Rye did not share the festive cheer of families and residents who boosted the charity's coffers.

He is furious that the festival was allowed to take place, insisting that the event had ruined the grass and gardens near the war memorial.

He told the Advertiser that the green was a "sensitive" location and said greater care should be taken when giving the green light to events on the green.

He said: "The licence to let the event take place should never have been given in the first place as it breaches the council's own policy."

"The council knew there was always going to be damage on that area if large events take place there."

Mr Rye stressed that he fully supported the fundraising efforts and his issue with the space was not in any way an attack on the charity.

A spokeswoman for Enfield Council pointed out that the event helped to raise thousands of pounds to support the charity, which works with residents in the borough living with cancer.

"Alas, as a result of the wet weather the area was a little muddy which will require some minor maintenance," she said.

She explained that because of recent changes in the law an occasional sales licence was obtained to allow stallholders to trade and all the other family activities did not require a licence.

Cautious welcome for centre ruling

By Julia Gregory

julia.gregory@nlhnews.co.uk

A DECISION to keep the borough's museum exhibition space in the "shop window" of the Dugdale Centre has been cautiously welcomed by campaigners.

However, they remain concerned that opening hours will be slashed. After a consultation process on the future of the Local Studies Centre, based at the Dugdale, in London Road, Enfield Town, the council announced that the ground and first floors would be kept as exhibition spaces and the drop-in service for people who do not need specialist help would be retained.

An appointments system for those needing expert help will be introduced on days when the studies centre is closed to drop-in visitors.

An Enfield Council spokesman said: "The centre will be closed to the public on Mondays and Fridays to enable staff to increase the amount of stock which is available digitally."

Although he insisted that staffing levels were not part of the public consultation, campaigners fear jobs will be lost as part of the council-wide overhaul of services.

Leonard Will, who edits The Enfield Society's newsletter, said: "Although it was not part of the announcement, we understand that staffing is still to be reduced to one downgraded post each for the museum and local studies services. "These services are highly dependent on staff knowledge and expertise."

Concerned: Campaigners are worried about the future of the Local Studies Centre, based at the Dugdale Centre in London Road, Enfield

However, he welcomed the council's intention to retain the historical informative displays in the centre.

A spokesman for the Unofficial Friends of Museum and Archive Services group, which has been campaigning to preserve the service, said: "It is positive that they have decided not to close the downstairs museum."

But he admitted the campaigners feared job losses were inevitable.

"I think it means the service is going to be reduced to a level where you wonder if it will be able to function properly at all," he added.

Bush Hill Park ward councillor Erin Celebi said the council had "backtracked" on its proposals.

Tennis courts jeopardised by cemetery proposals

TENNIS courts which provide free space for exercise are under threat from a plan to expand Edmonton Cemetery, say Conservative politicians.

A report due to be considered by Enfield Council's cabinet in February seeks to expand the cemetery, off the A10 Great Cambridge Road, to provide "new provisions for burials" – but Town ward councillor Joanne Laban fears for the future of the courts, beside the A10, saying their loss would be a blow.

She told the Advertiser: "If we want to find the next Andy Murray, then tennis courts such as these should not only be kept but publicised more."

Ms Laban, who has conceded that the idea to expand the graveyard was first put forward by her colleagues in the Conservative group when they controlled the council, insisted the proposals were shelved when they realised how unpopular they were.

Cabinet member for environment Daniel Anderson said: "We have a major problem with cemetery space. We need to find new areas for burials and the preferred way to do this is through expanding existing cemeteries.

"With regards to the loss of a tennis court, we are in talks with the Lawn Tennis Association to redirect resources into places that would be better for playing tennis such as in our parks."

A glimpse into the future: Developers are staging a three-day exhibition to discuss their plans for Trent Park's mansion

Public invited to meet architects

By Ruth McKee

ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

RESIDENTS will get a chance to meet the architects of plans to redevelop the former Middlesex University campus in Trent Park.

Property developers The Berkeley Group bought the grade II listed building in September.

It was sold for £30million in August 2013 by Middlesex University to the Malaysian university Alliance University College of Medical Sciences.

Alliance had planned to turn the mansion into a European base, but never moved into the building.

During World War II captured Luftwaffe pilots were held at the mansion where their quarters were bugged so that allied forces could glean intelligence from their conversations.

Bambos Charalambous, associate cabinet member for south-west Enfield, who set up the Save Trent Park Campaign, said that the consultation meeting was "an important opportunity for anyone interested in the future of the historically important house and grounds at the heart of Trent Park to engage with the new owners and make their opinions heard".

The Berkeley Group is holding a three-day exhibition as part of its consultation strategy when architects and project managers will be on hand to discuss the scheme.

The event is taking place at Southgate Compton Cricket Club, in Hadley Field, Chalk Lane, Cockfosters, between 9am and noon on Saturday, from 11am to 4pm on Sunday and from 3pm to 7.30pm on Monday.

Pilot scheme provides police with life-saving defibrillators

A PILOT scheme will see life-saving equipment located in police stations and in police cars across Enfield.

The scheme, which is running from December until May next year, is part of a joint project between the Metropolitan Police and London Ambulance Service and means that officers will be able to use defibrillators to help anyone in cardiac arrest.

Chris Hartley-Sharpe, the head of first responders at the ambulance service, said: "Police officers will be alerted to a potential cardiac arrest alongside our ambulance crews, which means that if they are in closer proximity, they can respond first."

An estimated 32 per cent of people survive cardiac arrests in a public place – but if there is a defibrillator on hand with someone trained to use it the chance of survival raises to 80 per cent, according to the ambulance service.

Enfield's borough commander Chief Superintendent Jane Johnson said: "We're delighted to be able to work alongside the ambulance service as part of this initiative."

Learning the ropes: Ricky Lawrence shows a police officer how to use a defibrillator

"In Enfield, we have 235 police officers who are now able to respond to these critical calls, potentially saving even more lives."

Last year the ambulance service launched a campaign to put more than 1,000 defibrillators in shops, businesses and gyms across London.

It also launched a scheme for trained volunteers to sign up to respond to life-threatening emergency calls, including cardiac arrests, via the GoodSAM app.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Richard Power feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done.

We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service the Enfield, Edmonton, Palmers Green, Winchmore Hill & Southgate areas and Richard is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

Life president – Enfield Over-50s Forum

DAVID Sturgeon is NHS England's director of primary care commissioning. It is unlikely you have heard of or met him. The Over 50s Forum has tried to see him, but he doesn't acknowledge our letters.

But you should know that Mr Sturgeon has produced a report on the future of Enfield's GP practices which will alarm anyone who has had difficulty in getting to see their GP.

According to Mr Sturgeon, Enfield needs the equivalent of another 9.5 full-time GPs over the next eight years because the borough's population will only increase by 17,197 between 2015 and 2023 – and we will need just 15 extra full-time GPs over the next 17 years!

Never mind that councillors tell us that in the last decade our population rose by more than 42,000 with no sign of this trend declining. Never mind that the Royal College of General Practitioners says the 49 Enfield surgeries need 50 per cent more GPs over the next five years.

Mr Sturgeon clearly sat behind his desk with a calculator, took a spot check on the number of GPs working here and came up with the number 245. But to fix the figure he included 61 locums (temporaries) who are not permanent employees.

Unless councillors and the clinical commissioning group challenge this report there will be no improvement in that wait for a GP appointment. They need to stand up for patients – for the forum can't win this battle alone.

Sign up for a trek which will push you to the limit

I AM writing to invite your readers to sign up to the British Heart Foundation's toughest fundraising challenge yet, a 100km trek.

The BHF has four 100km treks available and they will push participants to the limit.

Each challenge takes, on average, 26 hours to complete and will see participants cover 62.1 miles, walking non-stop through the night to raise funds for the BHF's life-saving research.

I encourage anyone who feels they are up to the challenge to sign up to one of the BHF's 100km treks.

It is a fantastic personal challenge and a great way to raise essential funds for the BHF's life-saving research, which makes a difference to millions of people in the UK living with heart disease.

We've been listening to views of the community

AS one of three Southbury Labour councillors, and very proud and honoured to be so, I couldn't help but manage a wry smile when reading the letter from Dr Linda Miller in the Advertiser (November 25, "Is it a coincidence that Southbury is a Labour ward?").

In the first instance, the councillors to whom she refers have long been in dialogue with, and listening to, their residents to gauge their opinion to the current proposals for Cycle Enfield in the Southbury Road area.

In addition, we ourselves are in constant dialogue with council officers and others to ensure that the widest range of opinions and potentially alternative ideas get a hearing.

The point Dr Miller was trying to make was facile, specious, and pretty blunt.

She seems to have conveniently forgotten that much of Green Lanes, which has long been the focus of attention for the mini-Holland transformation scheme, falls within Palmers Green ward, which is represented by three Labour councillors elected with clear and increased majorities.

And, in its resounding success at the May 2014 local elections, when the successful mini-Holland application was already high on the local agenda, a hugely active local resident and Labour councillor was mandated to represent Winchmore Hill, too. So what is Dr Miller's point?

Given that she is chairwoman of the Enfield Town Residents' Association, I suggest that Dr Miller concentrates and confines her thoughts, efforts, and activities, to her own backyard and allows elected representatives of Southbury ward to continue to engage as fully, openly and regularly with their constituents as they have done for the past ten years and more and relay their opinions and our own views in the appropriate manner into the Cycle Enfield consultation, which ends on Friday, December 18.

If you are a denture wearer then this article may be of some interest to you!! If you can relate to any of the following questions then it is a sign your denture needs attention:

- DO YOU FIND YOUR DENTURES:
- Do not fit as well on your gums as they used to?
  - Are they loose?
  - Do not cut food as well as they used to?
  - Do they make your face look older?
  - Have discoloured despite meticulous cleaning or
  - Cause discomfort/pain on chewing?

If any of the above breeds familiar territory then I may be able to alleviate some of these problems for you.

My name is Caroline Persaud I am a qualified CLINICAL DENTAL TECHNICIAN. Many of you may be aware of Dental Technicians/Mechanics who repair and produce dentures for dentists, however, due to recent changes in the Dental law, a group of Dental Care Professionals known as Clinical Dental Technicians have been approved by the General Dental Council and can now see denture wearers who have no natural teeth remaining, directly without having to visit a dentist.

The advantages to you, the patients, are numerous. You can be treated by a professional who has been clinically trained to undertake the impressions of your mouth and who also has the technical skill to manufacture your denture to meet your requirements.

Open door 'made jeweller nervous'

By Ruth McKee

ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

A JEWELLER based in the same building as the Hatton Garden Safe Deposit company which was the target of a £14million burglary said he felt nervous when he discovered a door ajar over the Easter weekend.

Lionel Wiffen, who has worked there for 30 years, said a back door was open when he visited the building at about 8pm on Easter Saturday to prepare for an electrician's visit the following day.

He told the jury at Woolwich Crown Court: "I was very concerned because it's never ever been open before."

Mr Wiffen described how he "crept in" and went "to look around to see if anybody was up there". He said he also checked a door in the basement, in which the Hatton Garden Safe Deposit business is based and it was locked.

Mr Wiffen found the door open again when he returned the following day. He said: "I felt more nervous." He looked round again and locked the back door when he left.

He also felt nervous at the beginning of the year as he

Caught on camera: A CCTV still shows Daniel Jones and an unidentified man walking along Greville Street towards Hatton Garden spotted "cars parked outside the door on the other side of the road with people in them".

He did not learn about the burglary until after the Easter break.

Detective Constable Jamie Day, the first police officer on the scene after the burglary, took the jury through CCTV footage including shots of Daniel Jones and Terry Perkins taking a blue-topped wheelie bin out via the fire escape at the back of the safe deposit company on Easter Sunday morning.

Prosecutor Philip Evans asked what he thought was in the bin. Mr Day said he thought it contained "the contents of the storage boxes".

William Lincoln, 60, of Bethnal Green, east London, Jon Harbison, 42, from Benfleet, Essex, and Carl Wood, 58, of Elderbeck Close, Cheshunt, Hertfordshire, all deny conspiracy to burgle the Hatton Garden Safe Deposit over the Easter weekend and conspiracy to conceal, convert or transfer property.

Plumber Hugh Doyle, 48, of Riverside Gardens, Enfield denies a charge of conspiracy to convert or transfer property between January 1 and May 19, 2015, or an alternative charge of concealing, converting or transferring jewellery or other stolen property between April 1 and May 19, 2015.

Perkins, 67, of Heene Road, Enfield, Jones, 58, of Park Avenue, Bush Hill Park, John "Kenny" Collins, 74, of Islington, north London, and Brian Reader, 76, from Dartford, Kent, have all pleaded guilty to conspiracy to burgle and will be sentenced at a later date.

CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE FOR ALL ADVERTISEMENTS

Orders are accepted by the Publishers subject to the Standard Conditions agreed between the Newspaper Society and the Institute of Practitioners in Advertising. Save that:
1. Advertisements are accepted on the conditions that (a) descriptions relating to goods are accurate and in no way contravene the provisions of the Trade Descriptions Act 1968, and the Fair Trading Act 1973; and (b) the copy complies with the British Code of Advertising Practice.
Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must conform to the Consumer Credit (Advertisements) Regulations 1980.

2. Classified Advertisers offering goods or service of a business, commercial or trade nature will, at the discretion of the Publishers, be deemed 'Trade Advertisers', and as such, must include their names in advertisements. A telephone number is an optional addition to these requirements and not an alternative.

To comply with the Business Advertisements (Disclosure) Order 1977, Trade Advertisers must make it clear that they are selling goods in the course of business either by content, format, size or place of the advertisement or by including words such as 'trade', 'dealer', 'agent',
'wholesaler', '(T)' etc. in the advertisement.

3. The Publishers accept no liability whatsoever for any loss or damage however caused arising out of:
(a) Any error, inaccuracy or omission in the printing or publishing of any advertisement;
(b) Any failure to publish an advertisement on the day / date or day / dates specified by the advertiser; or
(c) Any delay in forwarding or omission to forward replies to box numbers to the Advertiser.

4. The Publishers will endeavour to publish advertisements on the day / date or day / dates specified by the Advertiser but insertion days / dates cannot be guaranteed.

5. Where shrinkage of advertisement occurs for whatever reasons the advertisement will be charged to the nearest full centimetre. This will NOT apply to the full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.

6. The Publishers reserve the right to reject an advertisement or to vary it in any way they deem fit, at any time before publication, whether or not the advertisement has already been accepted for publication.

7. Whilst every effort is made to minimise errors in advertisements, mistakes do sometimes occur. Advertisers or their agents should therefore check their advertisements and inform us of any errors immediately. Responsibility cannot be accepted for more than one incorrect insertion. Typographical or minor changes, which do not affect the value of the advertisement, do not qualify for republication or allowances.

8. All gross advertising rates (except classified leakage and semi-display) are subject to and include a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance surcharge, payable by the advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory control system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.

9. All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.

10. Should the rate for advertisements be altered the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly or the publishers shall have the right to cancel the unexpired portion of the order.

11. The placing of an advertisement order will be deemed an acceptance of these conditions.
12. Account facilities are granted at the discretion of the Company.

13. All accounts must be settled within the terms agreed by the Company and the Customer.
(1) Should an advertiser be in breach of the agreed terms, the publisher shall be entitled to levy a 10% surcharge on the value of the whole debt in respect of accounts with terms of less than 30 days, and any discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be declined.

(2) Regular monthly accounts that are in breach of the agreed terms will pay an interest rate of 6% above the current bank of England base rate for each month that the account is overdue and discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be declined. Should legal action be required the interest will be charged in accordance with the County Court Act 1984.

14. Where an advertiser instructs / appoints an advertising agent to act on their behalf, the advertiser will remain jointly and severally liable for payment in respect of an advertisement should the appointed agent fail to pay. For the avoidance of doubt, the agent acts for the advertiser and not for the publisher with the agent being responsible for notifying the advertiser of this liability.

15. All queries must be notified, preferably in writing to the accounts department of the publisher within 7 days of the invoice date.

16. All digital services are maintained in partnership with the publishers' hosting service providers. Every effort is made to ensure the continuity of these services, but some occasional technical downtime beyond the publishers' control may occur. The publisher and its associated companies shall be under no liability if the production and distribution of web services is delayed or prevented by any cause beyond the control of the publisher.

17. The Publisher may provide voucher copies for published advertisements in electronic form only subject to certain criteria. Further information is available on request.

18. The copyright of advertisements produced wholly or partially by the Publishers belong to the Publishers. Advertisers may not reproduce such advertisements without the Publishers' consent.

Box Numbers
Boxes are open for the receipt of bona fide answers and are not available for distribution of trade canvassing matter. Original testimonials, goods, cash, cash stamps or payments of any kind must not be enclosed. A box Number and postal address are charged as part of the advertisement, i.e. Box No., centre address. There is no charge for forwarding replies.
Box numbers alone are not available for use in 'Trade' advertisements, other than Employment and Business Opportunities.

Holiday & Travel Category
All advertising must contain the name of the advertiser, phone number alone are not permitted.

Data Protection
The service you have requested may require us to carry out a credit search at a credit-referring agency, which will record the fact that a search has been made. We may need to share your information with other lenders and credit reference agencies. However, we will only use the information from these searches to make credit-granting decisions and, if necessary, for fraud prevention or tracing debtors.

FAMILY ANNOUNCEMENTS

Campaigners hope to raise £120,000 to turn 'wasted space' into therapeutic gardens

By Lucy Purdy

newsdesk@nlhnews.co.uk

THERAPEUTIC gardens will be created at Chase Farm Hospital to help dementia, stroke and neuro rehabilitation patients.

Two under-used outdoor spaces at the hospital, in The Ridgeway, Enfield, will be transformed into "therapeutic sanctuaries" by next summer if £120,000 can be raised towards the project.

One garden will be designed to promote memory recall and stimulate the senses through smell and colour, supporting dementia patients.

The other is designed for stroke and neuro rehabilitation patients.

It is hoped that both will enable people to take part in group gardening and horticultural therapy in the fresh air, develop muscle strength and balance and enjoy a quiet, peaceful place away from their ward.

Research shows that horticultural therapy can improve motivation, self-esteem and self-confidence, limit anxiety levels, promote independence and social interaction and reduce the risk of depression.

A patient, Ryan, who has spent time on the hospital's Cape Town ward, said: "I've been here eight days so far and I've not been outside.

It's currently wasted space.

"If it was patient-friendly, it would be so much better than being indoors. We could go outside and relax."

Joyce, a patient on Adelaide ward, added: "I feel isolated. If I can go outside and watch things grow, I have something to look forward to and a reason to get up."

Chase Farm Charity has enough funds to start phase one of the project and is urging members of the community to get involved, too.

Email savita.tailor@nhs.net to find out how to help with the fundraising project.

Transformation: Chris Valiantis, landscape gardener, with Tracy
Goodman, matron

FAMILY Announcements is the page dedicated to what is going on in your family. You can place a notice or announcement in tribute to someone who has passed away or in celebration of someone who has reached a milestone in their life.

We would also be pleased to receive any wedding photographs or news of new arrivals to the family, which we will consider for publication on this page.

We would also like to hear from any couples celebrating a golden or diamond wedding anniversary.

If bereaved family members or their friends would like to tell us about a loved one who has died, we may be able to print an obituary.

Drug-dealing duo are jailed after supplying brothel with cocaine

Jailed:
Naim Berisha,
Ryan Bojang and
Angela Cadar

By Lucy Purdy

newsdesk@nlhnews.co.uk

TWO men who supplied a brothel with cocaine to sell to its customers have been jailed for a total of 15 years.

Naim Berisha, 38, of Grove Close, Southgate, and 26-year-old Ryan Bojang, of Pellipar Close, Palmers Green, were sentenced at Wood Green Crown Court on Monday.

Berisha was convicted for the supply and possession of cocaine with intent to supply at Wood Green Crown Court on October 12.

He was jailed for eight years for supplying 1kg of cocaine and two years for possessing 25 wraps of cocaine with intent to supply, the sentences to run consecutively.

Bojang had admitted possessing cocaine with intent to supply at an earlier hearing. He was sentenced to five years and four months in prison.

Angela Cadar, 27, of Cheshire Road, Wood Green, was jailed for 11 months after admitting to managing a brothel.

The trio were arrested in a car park in Pellipar Close on June 22.

Bojang was found with a 1kg package of cocaine with a purity of 83 per cent.

Berisha was found in possession of a wrap of cocaine.

Detectives who searched an address in Cheshire Road, which was being run as a brothel by Cadar, found a freezer unit containing 25 wraps of cocaine with purities ranging from five to 60 per cent.

The cocaine was being offered for sale to the brothel's customers.

Fly-tipper fined £2,000

A RESIDENT, who was caught fly-tipping building waste in Enfield, has been ordered to pay fines and costs totalling more than £2,000.

Kleanthis Symeou, 37, of Hillfield Park, Winchmore Hill, pleaded guilty at Tottenham Magistrates' Court to dumping rubbish that he should have paid £100 to dispose of legally.

He was ordered to pay fines and costs totalling £2,244.

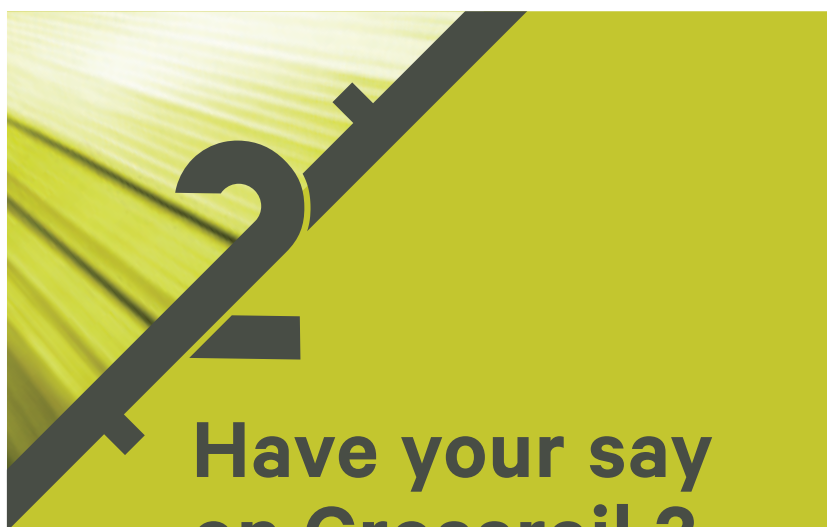

He dumped the waste in The Ridge-way, Enfield, on July 9 last year and was only stopped when two passing drivers spotted him and called the police.

He was arrested and his details were passed to Enfield Council's environmental protection team for prosecution. Cabinet member for environment Daniel Anderson said: "Fly-tipping is a serious and incredibly anti-social offence, which costs the council hundreds of thousands of pounds to clear every year.

"Mr Symeou admitted that dumping this waste was a way to avoid paying for its proper disposal and, should he not have been caught, would have led to a disgraceful mess being left on the roadside, which would had to be have been cleared at the taxpayers' expense."

Mr Anderson added that the council provided "numerous ways to legally get rid of rubbish" – from a doorstep collection service, to the civic amenity site.

Have your say on Crossrail 2

A proposed new railway

Designs on a new career...

By Ruth McKee

ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

FOR anyone other than blonde-haired princesses, or golden-haired little boys, it can be hard to find reflections of yourself in greetings cards.

The difficulty of getting a card depicting black or ethnic minority representation was driven home for former city worker Cheryl Johnson, 45, from Edmonton, on a shopping expedition in Fore Street.

This is the heart of a large, multi-cultural and diverse part of Enfield, but even here cards depicted a singular type of saccharine, pink and white femininity. There was nothing Cheryl wanted to buy for her daughter, nieces or friends.

"I looked at what was on offer and I said to my mum, who I was with, 'There's a gap in the market, I am going to design my own cards,'" she told the Advertiser.

"I believe there is a huge need for black cards, cards that reflect people who look like me and my relatives. Also there are very few cards that relate to anyone who is a little bit different – people who aren't a size six, for example. Where are they represented and shown positively?"

Up until January this year Cheryl worked with an investment bank, but when she was made redundant she decided to take stock – and take her time about choosing which direction to move in next.

On top of redundancy she had spent two years battling the rare brain disorder chorea, a disease that stems from the meningitis bacteria that had somehow infected her central nervous system.

"I always thought I wasn't creative, but I think I just never had the time before," she said.

"So when I was made redundant I thought, this is in an opportunity, this is a good one – I thought this is it. So I had a break, I thought I'm not going to work, I won't rush into anything and it gave me the time to work on this."

New career: Cheryl Johnson

She launched her venture along with 14 other business owners as part of a day celebrating black entrepreneurial skills in Enfield in the Dugdale Centre, in London Road, Enfield Town, on Saturday.

Cheryl is also angry that popular culture depicts young black men wearing hoodies and trainers as a threat, existing on the edges of society in readiness for violence – and is hoping her designs will help to change that narrative.

"I want to have pictures on my cards of boys in hoods reading books," she added. Her motto, printed above one of the designs of a young black girl with her head buried in a book, reads: "Dream big, reach for the stars".

Cheryl's cards became available to buy from www.fearlesssteps.co.uk from Saturday and she is hoping they will also be in local shops along with accessories including tote bags.

MOUSEMESH

SHAPING THE FUTURE OF PEST CONTROL

No more useless traps or poisons...

Mice enter our home through gaps the thickness of a pencil. That's why MOUSEMESH air brick vent covers are a must when it comes to pest control. Our unique, innovative products offer the opportunity to finally build vermin out of our homes. Not only mice but wasps, bees, slugs, spiders and a lot more. If they can't get in, they can't contaminate and therefore cannot spread disease.

That's Real Benefits For Human Health!

Mousemesh Air Brick Vent Covers come in three different colours and sizes.
Black, White, Brown or Stainless Steel.

All made with a durable ABS or stainless steel frame with a 2mm x 2mm stainless steel woven mesh.

We have also thought about new builds, extensions and refurbishments. So, for builders, builders merchants, planners and developers, there is no excuse. The products are now available to build pests out!

‘Revenge porn’ woman is jailed

By Ruth McKee

ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

A MUM-of-four from Bush Hill Park has become the first woman in the UK to be jailed for revenge porn.

Samantha Watt, 31, of Harman Road, admitted posting intimate pictures of her 21-year-old ex-girlfriend on her own Facebook page, including one which showed the victim performing a sex act on her.

The victim was horrified when she discovered the images online on July 1, captioned with allegations that she was involved in sex work.

Watt threatened to reveal further images unless the victim stopped “treating her badly”.

After pleading guilty to disclosing private sexual photos with intent to cause distress, she was sentenced at Highbury Magistrates’ Court last Thursday to spend 18 weeks behind bars.

Detective Constable Henry Marshall, who investigated the incident, said: “Samantha Watt deliberately and callously set out to cause the victim distress, humiliation and embarrassment.

“By publishing these private images on social media without the victim’s consent, she broke the law – and it is right that she now faces this custodial sentence.”

Festive cheer is here

Range Homes joined together with members of the community to organise the event including Palmers Green stalwarts Costas Georgiou, Mark leaver, Haroula Psaras and Tony Ourris who all celebrated the day alongside the Range Homes team.

The company would also like to thank the MP for Enfield Southgate, David Burrowes, and the mayor of Enfield, Patricia Ekechi, for hitting the button to light up the Palmers Green skies.

Despite hailing from different ends of the political spectrum they came together to celebrate festive cheer with all members of the Palmers Green community.

Lights on for Christmas

The dark winter night was lit up last week in Palmers Green as children from Hazelwood School choir joined together with local businesses to turn on the Christmas lights over Green Lanes.

Range Homes sponsored the festive switch-on and the choir of Hazelwood School added showbiz and sparkle to the event with their renditions of yuletide tunes.

The Range Homes team were on hand to dish out mince pies to the school children who had worked up an appetite singing their hearts out while volunteers at the Ruth Winston Centre in Green Lanes handed out warming cups of teas, coffees and hot chocolate to the chilly crowds..

Jingle bells: Hazelwood school pupils, above and below right, make some noise

Let there be light!

By Ruth McKee
ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

WHILE the Palmers Green Christmas lights switch-on might not have attracted the big-name celebrities of the West End illuminations, youngsters from a primary school filled the air with festive cheer to mark the occasion.

The year three to year six pupils from Hazelwood school, in Hazelwood Lane, Palmers Green, regaled crowds of shoppers with festive carols and songs at the Palmers Green triangle, where the large fir tree was put up and decked with lights and tinsel.

While the children serenaded the onlookers, including Enfield Southgate MP David Burrowes, who was flicking the switch, staff and volunteers from the Ruth Winston Centre, in Green Lanes, were on hand with hot drinks to warm the cockles of those whose hearts were not already melted by the pupils' singing.

Cathy Halpern, the music co-ordinator for Hazelwood schools, praised her stars, telling the Advertiser: "The singing was just beautiful".

Palmers Green community leader Costas Georgiou has been at the head of the campaign to see off proposals to transform Green Lanes into a cycling paradise – but lobbying was forgotten while he organised the festivities.

However, the Advertiser can confirm that Father Christmas will definitely not be swooping along Green Lanes on a customised bike in three weeks as he will be sticking with his traditional sleigh and reindeer engine.

Flicking the switch: David Burrowes, MP for Enfield Southgate, did the honours, with Mayor of Enfield Patricia in attendance

Forty Hall plays host to ghosts of Christmas past

By Russ Lawrence

russ.lawrence@nlhnews.co.uk

ENCOUNTERING the former inhabitants of a Victorian household in the flesh by the flickering glow of candlelight is not as creepy as it sounds.

A fascinating, festive-themed experience at Forty Hall, in Enfield, is recapturing the spirit of Christmas past.

The public get the chance to travel back in time to 1891 on Friday and Saturday of this week and next and immerse themselves in the lives of the Meyer family as they prepare excitedly for Yuletide.

Parties are led by candlelight around the beautiful mansion meeting members of the family and their servants – played by costumed actors – as they go about their everyday business.

Several generations of the wealthy family resided at the grade 1 listed Jacobean manor house, in Forty Hill from, 1799 to 1894.

Merchant James Meyer, who built nearby Jesus Church in 1835, bought the property – but it is his grandson, a Justice of the Peace also called James, and his family who feature.

"The public also play a role as a visiting choir who are told by housemaid Jane Rogers, who greets them, that unexpectedly the family have been delayed," said Rihana Kamall, Forty Hall's front of house and operations supervisor.

As they progress through the house, one by one, they meet James and his wife Georgina, their children, Katharine, aged eight, and Mary, six, as well as Peggy Alice, Georgina's daughter from her first marriage, and two of their young servants, Alfie and Sarah, who are in a relationship, adding a romantic dimension.

"The audience gets to inspect a Victorian kitchen and see how the turkey and trimmings were prepared, visit Georgina in her withdrawing chamber and learn how many of our beloved festive traditions such as the turkey, the Christmas tree and mulled wine can be traced back to the Victorians. Plus, there are plenty of other surprises in store, which I can't reveal," added Rihana.

The Friday performances take place at 6.30pm, 7pm and 7.30pm and the Saturday performances start at 4pm, 6.30pm and 7pm. The cost is £12 which includes a glass of mulled wine. It is suitable for people aged seven and upwards.

Pleased to meet you: Housemaid Jane Rogers (Lyn Lambert) and Peggy Alice (Jasmine Hall) at Forty Hall, below

Frankenstein is a real monster

VICTOR FRANKENSTEIN (12A, 110 mins)

IN her 1818 novel Frankenstein, Mary Shelley paints a vivid portrait of a wretched monster, whose "unearthly ugliness rendered it almost too horrible for human eyes".

Director Paul McGuigan's clunky reworking of the Gothic masterpiece, which recounts man's ill-fated meddling with Mother Nature from the perspective of Frankenstein's assistant Igor, is a similarly lifeless and unappealing mess.

The disfigured, snivelling servant doesn't feature in Shelley's haunting text, but was popularised by Hollywood in the 1930s and 1940s.

As played here by Daniel Radcliffe, Igor is a kind-hearted circus clown, who pledges his loyalty to Dr Frankenstein in return for liberation from a life of bullying and brutality.

He isn't a hunchback at all, but a victim of a nasty bulging abscess beside the 10th vertebrae, which is drained of puss in stomach-churning close-up as a centre-piece of the film's pedestrian first half.

The fraternal bond between scientific master and much-abused whelp is one of the more interesting aspects of Max Landis' misguided and misfiring script.

Alas, it's not sufficiently developed ahead of a cacophonous second act replete with flashes of lighting and the birth of a homunculus, patched together from stolen organs and body parts.

Victor Frankenstein (James McAvoy) is a student at the Royal College of Medicine with lodgings in the West End.

During a visit to a circus run by sadistic ringmaster Barnaby (Daniel Mays), Victor

Awkward double act: Daniel Radcliffe and James McAvoy

encounters a lowly clown (Radcliffe) with a burning passion for anatomy.

A bond is forged and Victor rescues the clown from his cage and asks the performer to become his assistant under the guise of his morphine-addicted flatmate, Igor Straussman.

Together, they blaze a trail in medical science by harnessing the power of electricity to reanimate dead flesh. "I am of the strong belief that death can be made a temporary condition," gushes Victor.

Success emboldens Frankenstein and the student dares to create a fully formed being with support from a wealthy patron called Finnegan (Freddie Fox).

Meanwhile, Igor fans the flames of a fledgling romance with a circus acrobat Lorelei (Jessica Brown Findlay) and God-fearing Inspector Roderick Turpin (Andrew Scott) vows to bring down Victor for mocking his religion. "You toy with wrathful forces and there's no mercy in nature," growls the police officer.

Frankenstein lumbers and lurches rather like the monstrosity that the title character jolts to life with a bolt of from the heavens.

Radcliffe and McAvoy are an awkward double act – the former stilted and earnest, the latter wide-eyed and manic.

Scott verges on unintentional hilarity as a man of faith, undone by the grief of losing his wife.

"Something reeks here – reeks of an evil, sinful mischief!" he cackles as the police investigation gathers pace. Lamentably, he's right. Victor Frankenstein stinks.

OPEN HOUSE VIEWINGS

In this fast moving housing market with the potential for 30 plus viewings in the first week of marketing, we have perfected the art of open house viewings.

Whilst all vendors are keen to get the best price for their properties, they are understandably reluctant to show so many people over their property constantly interrupting their busy lives, so we have the ideal solution.

We fully market your property through our extensive mailing list, website, Rightmove, Zoopla, local press and photographs in our prominent office window display, then show the property to genuine buyers over a few hours on a Saturday morning or afternoon; each potential buyer having a 10-15 minute timeslot to view the house accompanied by one of our experienced sales staff.

This typically results in a busy Monday morning for us collecting and collating offers, to ensure that our clients achieve the best price from a buyer, whose finances have been verified and who can proceed to the required timescales.

For more details of this stress free way of marketing your property why not call our office and take advantage of our free advice service, and find out more about our highly competitive commission rate.

Does what it says on the tin

By Matt Kimberley

THE Astra is an underrated, but evergreen compact family hatch, as happy taking the kids on a short break away as it is cutting a path through the city. There's no radical departure for 2016, although the sharp-eyed will notice a nip here and a tuck there.

There's an excellent new colour touch-screen that's standard across the range. It gives the whole product a lift and helps it make a better first impression. It's a sharp-looking thing, if a bit on the conservative side. Being built in Britain won't do its appeal this side of Dover any harm, either. Whichever model you choose, you end up with a pleasantly stylish and definitely inoffensive car. You'll never object to having it on your drive.

It's quite sensitive to trim grades, though, so whereas the fantastic top-spec cars with all the interior trimmings look like they've come straight from the top drawer, the fragile rubberised hand-brake grip and cheap-looking plastics on the low-end versions leave a lot to be desired and can start to look tatty very quickly.

There's a handy boot at the back, more than big enough for most tasks, but if you're toting babies, you'll struggle to get much more than a chunky pushchair into it without putting the conveniently split rear seats down.

Front seaters will be happy enough, especially with the uncommonly well-shaped seat backs that give superb lumbar support. The glove box is shed-spacious, but the door pocket shapes and cupholder designs could be better thought-out.

Under the bonnet there is a 1.0-litre turbocharged petrol engine. It can't make the Astra a rocket ship, but if you're gentle, you'll see fuel economy you'd struggle to better in an eco-diesel. I found it no problem to hover around 60mpg in relatively traffic-free driving. Alright, you do need to put some effort in, but the potential is there.

The dinky engine is perfect for chopping around urban and suburban routes. It's impressively linear once the turbo kicks in, making it smooth, forgiving and easy to get used to. It warms up faster than a moth on a sunbed and it's perfect for no-fuss short trips. The five-speed gearbox is light and precise, with tall gearing that partly offsets the lack of a sixth, but it's clear this version isn't meant to cover serious motorway mileage.

It's a nice steer, however, responding quite keenly to tugs at the wheel and scampering along winding roads with gusto. The brakes on this nearly new car were very grabby, but that should hopefully settle down with mileage.

The Astra is a solid car. You know what you're getting and, although some of the materials on basement models aren't up to scratch, at the very least, the car does a good job of providing straight-down-the-line mid-size transport for people who don't want to spend the extra on a slightly more spacious compact crossover or SUV.

Vauxhall dealers are usually open to a little haggling, too, so don't take the retail price as gospel. You should pay less than for a broadly equivalent crossover, so there's good value to be had here even if the fashion is currently for faux 4x4s.

This is a car for ordinary people – people who want a well-rounded car to give them transport, enough space and the ability to cope with everything from taking the in-laws to lunch, to taking the kids to the seaside. Parents will appreciate this versatility, while some might prefer the lower seating position relative to SUVs for the better outward view it offers during low-speed manoeuvres.

We'll give you the best of both worlds...every week, all week!

In this rapidly moving technological age people are finding new ways to advertise, especially online via the internet. But contrary to what online sites are saying and common assumptions, print advertising is not dead. There are still benefits and disadvantages to both methods and the best way to succeed is to find a vehicle that covers both bases - and that's where we come in!

The Benefits of print advertising:

1. Print adverts last longer and will be seen often.
2. They will be seen by a large number of people and have the ability to hit a specific audience.
3. There is a more creative potential with print advertising.
4. There is a positive perception of newspaper advertising - it will encourage people to think the client is serious.

The Benefits of online advertising:

1. The advert content can be easily updated.
2. It's online 24/7, 12 months a year, all round the world.
3. A massive audience, with all ages now online.
4. Very quick response - you can be receiving candidates hours after posting your advert.

CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE FOR ALL ADVERTISEMENTS

Orders are accepted by the Publishers subject to the Standard Conditions of Sale between the Newspaper Society and the Institute of Practitioners in Advertising. Save that:

1. Advertisements are accepted on the conditions that (a) descriptions relating to goods are accurate and no way contravene the provisions of the Trade Descriptions Act 1968, and the Fair Trading Act 1973, and (b) the copy complies with the British Code of Advertising Practice.
Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must conform to the Consumer Credit (Advertisements) Regulations 1980.

2. Classified Advertisers offering goods or service of a business, commercial or trade nature will, at the discretion of the Publishers, be deemed "Trade Advertisers", and as such, must include their names in advertisements. A telephone number is an optional addition to these requirements and not an alternative.

3. All advertisements must be submitted within the terms agreed by the Company and the Customer.
The Publishers will undertake to publish advertisements on the day / date or day / dates specified by the Advertiser but insertion days / dates cannot be guaranteed.

4. Where shrinkage of advertisement occurs for whatever reasons the advertisement will be charged to the nearest full centimetre. This will NOT apply to the full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.

5. The Publishers reserve the right to reject an advertisement or to vary it in any way they deem fit, at any time before publication, whether or not the advertisement has already been accepted for publication.

6. Whilst every effort is made to minimise errors in advertisements, mistakes do sometimes occur. Advertisers or their agents should therefore check their advertisements and inform us of any errors immediately. Responsibility cannot be accepted for more than one incorrect insertion, typographical or minor changes, which do not affect the value of the advertisement.

7. All gross advertising rates (except classified listings and semi-displays) are subject to and include a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance surcharge, payable by the advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory control system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.

8. All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.

9. Should the rate for advertisements be altered the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly or the publishers shall have the right to cancel the unexpired portion of the order.

10. The placing of an advertisement order will be deemed an acceptance of these conditions.
11. Account facilities are granted at the discretion of the Company.

12. All accounts must be settled within the terms agreed by the Company and the Customer.
(1) Should an advertiser be in breach of the agreed terms, the publisher shall be entitled to levy a 10% surcharge on the value of the whole advertisement or the part in breach of terms of less than 30 days, and any discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed.

(2) Regular monthly accounts that are in breach of the agreed terms will pay an interest rate of 6% above the current bank for England base rate for each month in arrears.
13. Where an advertiser instructs / appoints an advertising agent to act on their behalf, the advertiser will remain jointly and severally liable for payment in respect of an advertisement. The advertiser shall be responsible for ensuring that the agent is duly authorised by the advertiser and not for the publisher with the agent being responsible for notifying the advertiser of this liability.

14. All queries must be notified, preferably in writing to the accounts department of the publisher within 7 days of the invoice date.

15. All digital services are maintained in partnership with the publishers' hosting service providers. Every effort is made to ensure the continuity of these services, but some occasional technical problems beyond the publishers control may occur. The publisher and its associated companies shall be under no liability if the production and distribution of web services is delayed or prevented by any cause beyond the control of the publisher.

16. The Publisher may provide voucher copies for published advertisements in electronic form only subject to certain criteria. Further information is available on request.

17. The copyright of advertisements produced wholly or partially by the Publishers belong to the Publishers. Advertisers may not reproduce such advertisements without the Publishers' consent.

Box Numbers
Boxes are open for the receipt of bona fide answers and are not available for distribution of trade catalogues, original testimonials, goods, cash, cash coupons or payments of any kind which must not be enclosed. A box number and postal address are charged as part of the advertisement, i.e. box No., centre address. There is no charge for forwarding replies.
Box numbers alone are not available for use in "Trade" advertisements, other than Employment and Business Opportunities.

Holiday & Travel Category
All advertising must contain the name of the advertiser, phone number alone are not permitted.

Data Protection
The service you have requested may require us to carry out a credit search at a credit-referencing agency, which will record the fact that a search has been made. We may need to share your information with other lenders and credit reference agencies. However, we will only use the information from these searches to make credit-granting decisions and, if necessary, for fraud prevention or tracing debtors.

Data controller will use your information for administration and analysis. We may share your information with other Tindle Group Newspaper companies or carefully selected third parties.
We, or they, may send you details of other goods and services, which may be of interest to you. The information may be provided by letter, telephone or other reasonable means of communication. Calls may be recorded or monitored for training purposes.

Special conditions apply with regard to the advertising of adult services, which are outlined to all persons submitting such advertisements.

SPURS HELD BY THE CHAMPIONS

By Dominique Stafford

sport.enfield@nlhnews.co.uk

SKIPPER Hugo Lloris felt it was crucial that Tottenham Hotspur managed to extend their unbeaten run in the Premier League by securing a 0-0 draw at home to champions Chelsea on Sunday.

Spurs, who have not lost in the league since the opening day of the season, were forced to play less than three days after their long trip to Azerbaijan to take on FK Qarabag in the Europa League, and they failed to reproduce the same attacking verve as they had displayed against West Ham the previous weekend.

But they still did enough to ensure that they avoided defeat, with keeper Lloris making one stunning save to thwart Eden Hazard as Spurs kept hold of fifth place in the table.

He said: "If you look at the context it's a good point, but even with the tiredness in our side we were better than them. We showed more qualities. We tried to play but unfortunately we couldn't score and the feeling in the changing room was one of disappointment."

"On the pitch we feel that, despite the European game, we had control of the match. We weren't as fresh as we normally are, but at the end of the day when you can't win it's important not to lose."

"For my save it happened really quickly and I was more focused on the challenge in the air than I was on Hazard. However, because I was in the right position it meant I was able to make the save.

"You don't really have time to think in those situations, it's just reactions and that's where the training comes to the fore."

The point meant that Spurs set a new club record of 13 matches without defeat in the Premier League, and head coach Mauricio Pochettino was full of praise for the efforts of his players – feeling that they were unlucky not to secure maximum points.

"We're disappointed that we didn't get more in the end, but it is true that I feel very proud of the players," he said. "For me they are heroes because the effort was massive."

"We created enough to score. I think we shot four times on target and more off target and they had only one shot on target with Hazard in the second half."

"I think we deserved more in a very difficult game. Chelsea played very deep and on the counter-attack and tried to defend and we showed a good, mature performance."

"I think Chelsea played one of their best games of the season and always when you show the effort and maturity that we showed I think you can be very happy with your players, but also a little bit disappointed because it is only one point."

Keeping Chelsea at bay: Hugo Lloris made a fine save to help Tottenham to pick up a point

"It is true that it's good to be unbeaten since the first game of the season, but we need to keep on working hard because it is only 14 games into the Premier League and we want to achieve things at the end of the season."

Pochettino added: "Perhaps we had a lack of mental freshness after the trip to Azerbaijan but in the end it was a massive effort."

"We had to cancel the training session on Friday because we arrived back at 5am. It is not an excuse but maybe it is not physical, but it is mental tiredness."

Borough miss out against Hornchurch

HARINGEY BOROUGH were outplayed on Saturday as they slipped to a 4-1 defeat at AFC Hornchurch in Ryman Division One North.

Borough have shown improved form in recent weeks following their difficult start to the season, but they were decidedly second best in this encounter as the high-flying hosts romped to victory.

Hornchurch nearly took the lead inside the opening minutes as Tobi Joseph hit the post from a Joey May corner and George Purcell's follow-up shot went narrowly wide.

And it came as little surprise when the hosts opened the scoring on ten minutes. Another May corner was played back to Purcell on the edge of the box, and he volleyed into the net.

But Borough responded well to falling behind and an Anthony McDonald free-kick was tipped around the post by keeper Sam Mott before the same player was thwarted by a superb covering tackle from Nathan Cooper as he raced clear.

However, Hornchurch took a firm grip on the match by doubling their advantage on 26 minutes – Purcell picking himself up to score from the spot after he had been tripped in the box.

The visitors still looked threatening going forward, and Dean Fenton and Ishmael Kamara were thwarted by good saves from Mott, while Ashley Fashanu headed wide when well placed.

Purcell continued to be the most dangerous player on the pitch though, and he twice brought excellent saves out of Borough keeper Ashley Harris from free-kicks.

Hornchurch took a firm grip on the match by adding a third on 54 minutes when Abs Thompson embarked on a lengthy run before firing in off the post from a narrow angle.

The visitors gave themselves some hope when Rakim Richards pulled a goal back nine minutes later with a near-post header from a free-kick.

There was to be no miraculous comeback however, and Thompson had a shot deflected behind and Joseph headed over before Purcell wrapped up Hornchurch's win by completing his hat-trick from a tight angle with 16 minutes remaining.

Haringey Borough, who slipped back to second bottom in the table as a result of the defeat, host Great Wakering Rovers on Saturday (3pm) before going to Maldon and Tiptree on Tuesday (7.45pm).

Ujah backed to keep on progressing

CHIJINDU UJAH has been backed to keep on progressing by former British sprint star Christian Malcolm.

Ujah, a member of Enfield and Haringey Athletic Club, first came to prominence in 2014 when he became just the fifth British sprinter to break the coveted ten-second barrier for the 100metres when he clocked a time of 9.96secs.

And he followed that up with a consistent season this year, which initially began in disappointing fashion as he was disqualified from the 60m final at the European Indoor Championships in Prague for a false start after he had won both his heat and semi-final.

But the 21-year-old bounced back from this disappointment by going on to be crowned British champion for the 100m before reaching the semi-finals of the event at the World Championships in Beijing.

And Malcolm, who won two World Championship relay bronze medals during his career, believes that Ujah can be happy with what he has achieved so far.

"I think CJ did have a consistent year, especially when you look at the times he ran," Malcolm said, speaking at a Get Set for Community Action event. "He did 6.55secs indoors, and while the final in Prague might not have gone to plan he has come out of that."

"In the outdoor season he became British champion and ended as British number one, so he has shown progression. Now he just needs to make sure he is keeping that up and progressing all the time."

"The tough thing is that the standard has risen on a global level and that's hard to deal with so he has to rise with those standards, but I think he is doing a fantastic job."

"He had the disappointment in Prague but that's massively important because you learn more from losing than you do from when things go your way. You look back on success and failure and ask what you could have done better, but you look at his year and it's been great. He still managed to kick on, and that's all you can ask."

□ Get Set for Community Action is a new United Kingdom-wide programme for young people and their communities created by the British Olympic Foundation and British Paralympic Association and made possible thanks to the Big Lottery Fund.
